This bulletin provides the official list of areas eligible for benefits under a number of Federal area assistance programs on the basis of high unemployment. It also provides summary manpower data on 150 major labor areas.

Descriptions of the government programs for which an area may become eligible on the basis of high unemployment, and of the Department of Labor's program for classifying such areas, are found in the Section "Explanation of Area Classifications."

Changes Affecting Eligibility of Areas for Various Types of Federal Assistance

April 1974

HIGHLIGHTS

Two major labor areas--Kalamazoo and Lansing-East Lansing, Mich.--were added in April to the list of areas officially classified by the Manpower Administration as "areas of substantial unemployment." These changes increased the number of major labor areas in the substantial unemployment category (Groups D, E, and F) to 43, the highest total since January 1973, when 44 areas were so classified. 1/

Layoffs in the auto industry were chiefly responsible for the increase in unemployment in both the Kalamazoo and Lansing-East Lansing areas.

The Northeast Pennsylvania labor area (Lackawanna, Luzerne, and Monroe Counties, Pa.), was recently established as a new Standard Metropolitan Statistical Area. This new SMSA, which includes the former Scranton and Wilkes-Barre-Hazleton, Pa., areas, was classified by the Manpower Administration for the first time this month in the Group C (moderate unemployment) category.

Eight "other" (smaller) areas were deleted this month from the substantial unemployment list. On the basis of calendar year 1973 unemployment rates, three "other" (smaller) labor areas shifted from the substantial to the persistent unemployment list and one "other" area was added to this month's list of areas eligible for public works assistance under Title I of the Public Works and Economic Development Act. There were no changes in the list of classified sections of concentrated unemployment or underemployment this month.

All changes in area classifications made this month affecting substantial or persistent unemployment areas are effective for Federal procurement preference purposes on May 1, 1974.

1/ Descriptions of the various area classification categories are found in the "Explanation of Area Classifications" section of this bulletin. The current classifications of the 150 major labor areas are shown in the table "Current Classification and Labor Force, Unemployment, and Employment in 150 Major Labor Areas."

*An "other" area is any area--regardless of size--not included in the list of 150 major labor areas covered by the regular Department of Labor-State employment security agency monthly reporting program.

There are now 706 areas classified as areas of substantial or persistent unemployment. The following table shows these areas arranged by size and nature of unemployment.

Labor Areas of Substantial or Persistent Unemployment
April 1974

Size	Total	Substantial (only)	Persistent
Major	44	33	11
Other	662	263	399
Total	706	296	410

Persistent unemployment areas are potentially eligible for all types of assistance available under the Public Works and Economic Development Act. The 11 major labor areas now in the persistent unemployment category are Stockton, Calif.; Bridgeport, New Britain, and Waterbury, Conn.; Lowell and New Bedford, Mass.; Muskegon-Muskegon Heights, Mich.; Mayaguez and Ponce, P.R.; Seattle and Tacoma, Wash. All of these areas, except Waterbury, Conn., are also currently classified as areas of substantial unemployment (Groups D, E, and F). In addition to these areas, 399 other labor areas plus three large cities--Oakland, Calif.; Newark, N.J.; and Cleveland, Ohio--and 17 separately classified counties are considered persistent unemployment areas.

One area--Ottumwa (Wapello County), Iowa--was added to the list of areas eligible for public works assistance under Title I of the Public Works and Economic Development Act this month. There are 460 labor areas, 22 separate counties, and one independent city of 250,000 or more population which are eligible for this type of assistance on the basis of high 1972 or 1973 annual average unemployment rates.

Sections of Concentrated Unemployment or Underemployment

There were no changes this month in the list of classified sections of concentrated unemployment or underemployment. Parts or all of 421 cities, 677 counties, in all States, 31 Indian reservations, and the Commonwealth of Puerto Rico are classified as sections of concentrated unemployment or underemployment. As indicated in the Explanation of Area Classifications summary (page 5), firms in or near these sections which agree to hire disadvantaged workers are eligible for preference in bidding on certain Federal procurement contracts.

Major Area Classification Changes

Three of the 150 major labor areas regularly assigned classifications changed their classifications in April. The Chattanooga, Tenn. area moved from the low unemployment Group B (1.5 to 2.9 percent unemployment) to the moderate unemployment Group C (3.0 to 5.9 percent unemployment). Kalamazoo and Lansing-East Lansing, Mich. shifted from Group C to the substantial unemployment Group D (6.0 to 8.9 percent unemployment). The table below shows, for this month, last month, and a year ago, the number of major labor areas in the various letter classification categories described on the following page.

Labor Supply Groups	April 1974	March 1974	April 1973
Total all groups	150 1/	150	150
Group A	0	0	0
Group B	21	22	25
Group C	86	87	87
Group D	39	37	34
Group E	3	3	2
Group F	1	1	2

1/ Table includes for the first time this month the Nassau-Suffolk, N.Y. SMSA, which has been classified in Group C since January 1973, and the newly established Northeast Pennsylvania SMSA, which is classified in Group C. The new area includes the formerly separately classified Scranton and Wilkes-Barre-Hazleton, Pa. SMSA's. The Wilkes-Barre-Hazleton area was classified in Group D in April 1973; Scranton was classified in Group C.

explanation of area classifications

Each month the Department of Labor classifies 150 major employment centers according to the adequacy of their labor supply. The classifications are based on reports, prepared by the State employment security agencies, covering employment and unemployment developments and outlook in each area. A letter classification code, shown below, is assigned to each major area. The unemployment rate is a key factor in determining the area classification, but consideration is also given to the area's employment and unemployment outlook, local employer estimates of their manpower requirements, the relationship between labor supply and demand, the seasonal pattern of employment and unemployment fluctuations in the area, and other factors.

Labor Supply Category	Description	Unemployment Rate 1/
Group A	Overall labor shortage	Less than 1.5%
Group B	Low unemployment	1.5 to 2.9%
Group C	Moderate unemployment	3.0 to 5.9%
Group D	Substantial unemployment	6.0 to 8.9%
Group E	" "	9.0 to 11.9%
Group F	" "	12.0 or more

1/ Ratio of unemployment to area's total labor force.

Areas of Substantial Unemployment

A labor area in which the current and anticipated local labor supply substantially exceeds labor requirements is classified as an area of "substantial unemployment." An area is placed in this category when:

- (1) Unemployment in the area is equal to 6 percent or more of its labor force discounting seasonal or temporary factors, and
- (2) It is anticipated that the rate of unemployment during the next 2 months will remain at 6 percent or more, discounting temporary or seasonal factors.

Major labor areas classified in Groups D, E, and F are regarded as areas of "substantial unemployment." The Department of Labor also classifies several hundred other areas when they meet the substantial unemployment criteria. These areas are not placed in specific letter classification categories. Areas of less than 1,500 population may be "certified" by State employment security agencies, upon authorization by the Department, as areas of substantial or persistent unemployment. Such areas are not included in the list of classified areas.

Areas of Persistent Unemployment

A labor area, or a city of 250,000 or more population, or a county, may be classified as an area of "persistent unemployment" when unemployment during the most recent calendar year has averaged 6 percent or more of the labor force, and the rate of unemployment has:

- (1) Averaged 6 percent or more and has been at least 50 percent above the national average for 3 of the preceding 4 calendar years, or
- (2) Averaged 6 percent or more and has been at least 75 percent above the national average for 2 of the preceding 3 calendar years, or
- (3) Averaged 6 percent or more and has been at least 100 percent above the national average for 1 of the preceding 2 calendar years.

Annual average unemployment rates used in the classification of areas of persistent unemployment are listed below:

	1973	1972	1971	1970
National average	4.9	5.6	5.9	4.9
50% above	7.4	8.4	8.9	7.4
75%	8.6	9.8	10.3	-
100%	9.8	11.2	-	-

Sections of Concentrated Unemployment or Underemployment

Sections of concentrated unemployment or underemployment include all places participating in the Department of Labor's "Concentrated Employment Program," all "target areas" under the "Model Cities" program of the Department of Housing and Urban Development, all areas which were identified for Federal assistance to provide public service employment under Section 6 of the Emergency Employment Act of 1971 (P.L. 92-54), and Indian Reservations with a population of 4,000 or more.

Labor Areas

A "labor area" consists of a central city or cities and the surrounding territory within commuting distance. It is an economically integrated geographical unit within which workers may readily change jobs without changing their place of residence. Labor areas usually include one or more entire counties, except in New England where towns are considered the major geographical units.

Major labor areas usually have at least one central city with a population of 50,000 or more. In most instances boundaries of major labor areas coincide with those of Standard Metropolitan Statistical areas as determined by the Office of Management and Budget in consultation with a Federal interagency committee.

Geographical boundaries of all classified areas are listed in a Manpower Administration publication entitled "Directory of Important Labor Areas." Revisions in labor area boundaries are listed monthly in the "Area Trends in Employment and Unemployment" bulletin.

Federal Procurement Preference

Firms with establishments in areas of high unemployment and firms which agree to employ disadvantaged workers are eligible for three kinds of preference in certain Federal contract awards under Defense Manpower Policy No. 4, revised.

First preference is extended to firms in or near sections of concentrated unemployment or underemployment or in an area of substantial or persistent unemployment which agree to employ at least 25 percent of their newly hired workers each month from among disadvantaged residents of the classified section or area. Second preference is extended to firms located in any area which agree to hire at least 15 percent of their new hires each month from among disadvantaged workers. Third preference is given to firms in areas of persistent or substantial unemployment, with no requirement to employ disadvantaged workers.

For purposes of this program, an individual shall be considered disadvantaged if he is a poor person who does not have suitable employment and is one of the following: (1) a school dropout, (2) under 22 years of age, (3) 45 years of age or older, (4) handicapped, or (5) subject to special obstacles to employment resulting from any other factors such as being a member of a minority.

Applications for certificates of eligibility which are required for first or second preference are available from local offices of State employment security agencies serving the area where the establishment is located. No certificate is required for third preference. Firms not otherwise eligible may nevertheless qualify for preference by agreeing to subcontract a substantial proportion of a Federal contract to eligible firms.

Firms certified for first preference and firms located in areas of substantial or persistent unemployment are also eligible for preference under Executive Order 10582, implementing the Buy American Act. For purposes of the Buy American Act areas of persistent unemployment are considered to be areas of substantial unemployment.

Public Works and Economic Development Act

Under the Public Works and Economic Development Act, areas classified by the Department of Labor as areas of persistent unemployment are recommended to the Economic Development Administration of the Department of Commerce for designation as redevelopment areas provided that other conditions required by the Act and related regulations are met. Such areas are potentially eligible for all of the types of Federal assistance provided under that Act.

Upon request, an area with an unusual and abrupt rise in unemployment due to the loss, removal, curtailment, or closing of a major source of employment may be designated as a redevelopment area by the Secretary of Commerce. To be eligible under this provision the area's rate of unemployment must have risen to a level 50 percent or more above the national average within three years prior to the date of the request, or be expected to rise to that level within three years following the date of the request, unless assistance is provided.

Areas which are not classified as areas of persistent unemployment may nevertheless be eligible for Federal grants for public works and development facilities under Title I of the Act if such areas had an annual average unemployment rate of at least 6 percent during the preceding calendar year.

The eligibility of all redevelopment areas, including those that are eligible for reasons other than unemployment, is reviewed annually. The "Area Trends" bulletin lists only those areas which are eligible on the basis of annual average unemployment.

^{1/} Geographical boundaries of labor areas shown in capital letters, except as noted below, are identical with boundaries of Standard Metropolitan Statistical Areas (SMSA's) established by the Office of Management and Budget (OMB). Definitions of the Manpower Administration which differ from those of the OMB are: Florence-Sheffield, Ala.; Anchorage, Alaska; Bridgeport, Bristol, Danbury, Meriden, New Britain, Norwalk, and Waterbury, Conn.; Alexandria, La.; Boston, Brockton, Fall River, Lawrence-Haverhill, New Bedford, Pittsfield, Springfield-Chicopee-Holyoke, and Worcester, Mass.; Kalamazoo, Lansing-East Lansing, and Muskegon-Muskegon Heights, Mich.; Newark and Paterson-Clifton-Passaic, N.J.; Caguas, Ponce, and San Juan, P.R.; Providence-Warwick-Pawtucket, R.I.; and Huntington-Ashland, W.Va.-Ky.

^{2/} Program eligibility extends only to corporate limits of the municipality, not to other portions of the labor area containing the city.

NOTE: Explanation of column headings and eligibility of areas under Federal assistance programs are contained in the "Explanation of Area Classifications" section of this bulletin.

Changes in Labor Area Data

The table, "Current Classification and Labor Force, Unemployment, and Employment in 150 Major Labor Areas," now shows, for most areas, monthly data based on the "labor force" rather than the "work force" concept. The areas for which work force data are still being shown are indicated by asterisks. Labor force data will be shown for these areas when affiliated State employment security agencies complete their conversion to the new system. The new procedures were introduced by the Department of Labor's Bureau of Labor Statistics, which has the responsibility in the Department for the technical adequacy of the State and area employment and unemployment estimates prepared by the State employment security agencies.

Conversion to the labor force basis makes concepts and methods used in developing State and area estimates more comparable with those used in the national survey of employment and unemployment. The new data, which are to be used for smaller labor areas as well as the 150 major labor areas, are not comparable with data based on the work force concept.

Under the new procedures, the total employment estimate is computed on a persons by place-of-residence basis. Under the work force concept, a large portion of the total employment estimate is derived on an "establishment" or jobs by place-of-work basis. The new system includes commuting workers in the total employment estimate for the labor area in which they reside rather than the labor area in which they work and also eliminates the multiple inclusion of persons holding more than one job.

The procedures for estimating total unemployment remain essentially the same; the estimated number of unemployed is computed on a persons by place-of-residence basis as under the work force system. The labor force estimate, which is the sum of total resident employment and total resident unemployment, differs from the work force estimate because of the adjustment made for commuting and multiple jobholding. The total unemployment rate under the new system is the ratio of the number of unemployed to the labor force, and is consequently different than under the work force concept. Data on total nonagricultural wage and salary employment and manufacturing employment, shown in the table, are derived on an "establishment" or jobs by place-of-work basis, as under the work force concept.
